

Specification Change Notice

Products affected: Thermostat OTH-03

Dear Customer

We would like to inform you of an upcoming change to the above product due to low availability of the terminal screws used in it. To improve the productivity, we have decided to change the screw head type from the current cross-head to a slotted-head.

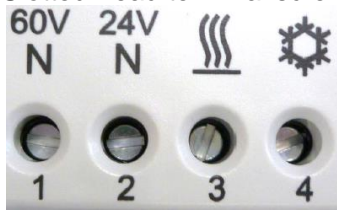

Once the situation gets back to normal, we will restore it to its original state.

Along with the above, UKCA mark will be added on the product body.

We look forward to your understanding and continued business in the future.

- Affected models
